1. Program Overview

The Meridian Leadership Development Program prepares newly promoted managers for the responsibilities of people leadership. This training covers performance management, team communication, conflict resolution, and compliance with organizational policies. Completion is mandatory within 90 days of promotion to a supervisory role.

2. Performance Management

Managers shall conduct formal performance reviews with each direct report at least twice annually using the standardized evaluation framework. Ongoing feedback should be documented through regular one-on-one meetings held at minimum every two weeks.

3. Team Communication

Managers shall hold weekly team meetings to align on priorities, surface blockers, and share relevant organizational updates. Meeting agendas and action items shall be documented and accessible to all team members.

4. Conflict Resolution

Address interpersonal conflicts early before they escalate. Begin with private one-on-one conversations with involved parties. Escalate to Human Resources when conflicts involve allegations of harassment, discrimination, or policy violations.

5. Compliance Responsibilities

Managers are responsible for ensuring their teams complete all mandatory training, adhere to organizational policies, and maintain required certifications. Ignorance of policy does not exempt managers from accountability for team compliance.
